INTERACT WITH STUDENTS LIKE YOU

SCAD students come from across the United States and more than 100 countries. Here, artists and designers find the learning environment they need to flourish. Full-time undergraduate SCAD students take three classes per quarter. Graduate students may be considered full-time while taking two or three classes per quarter. Classes are small, with a faculty-to-student ratio of 1:16. Traditional classes meet for 2½ hours twice a week for lectures and individual or group work. Fridays are open for studio time or collaboration outside class with students and faculty.

Online classes do not take place at set times. There is opportunity for ongoing participation through discussion postings and Web chats among students and faculty.

EXPERIENCE YOUR HOME AWAY FROM HOME

SCAD residence halls offer a variety of living options so students can work, play, exercise, eat and become fully immersed in the university community. Apartment-style and traditional residence halls feature amenities including cafés, a convenience store, fitness centers, digital labs and meeting rooms. Common areas and recreational spaces—indoors and out—offer an additional environment for interaction and provide space for students to relax, watch television and gather for games and group activities.

Planning to live off campus? The vibrant cities of Savannah, Atlanta and Hong Kong offer a wide range of communities and apartments, condos and houses.

GET INVOLVED

The SCAD experience includes programs and activities that promote student interaction, leadership and community service, and encourage a healthy lifestyle. With more than 70 student organizations to choose from, SCAD students have many opportunities to meet others who share common interests—from Japanese anime to whitewater rafting. Leadership development opportunities are promoted through all student organizations including the Student Activities Council, United Student Forum and Student Media.

EXPAND YOUR CREATIVITY

Galleries, exhibitions and signature annual events in Savannah, Atlanta, Hong Kong and Lacoste showcase the work of students, alumni, faculty and other distinguished and emerging artists. The SCAD Museum of Art in Savannah features more than 4,500 works by major artists. SCAD's Jen Library in Savannah and the ACA Library of SCAD in Atlanta provide students with an extensive art and design library system. SCAD signature events include the Savannah Film Festival, Inspire, the SCAD Fashion Show and SCAD Seen, the Sidewalk Arts Festival, aTVfest, deFINE ART, the Game Developers eXchange, and more.

LEARN FROM THE EXPERTS

The extraordinary SCAD faculty of nearly 700 professors—77 percent of them full-time—is drawn from throughout the world. While many continue to publish, exhibit, design and consult, they are dedicated to teaching and sharing their expertise and professional connections with SCAD students and alumni.

TAKE A BREAK

Students like you have found their creativity enhanced by taking a break and participating in recreational and athletic activities. SCAD offers many ways to enjoy the challenge of individual and team sports and recreation. Students at SCAD in Atlanta and Savannah compete at championship levels in men's and women's intercollegiate athletics.

PREPARE FOR SUCCESS

SCAD puts unrivaled career services and connections at your fingertips. The university's career advisers work with you one-on-one to determine course options, prepare résumés and portfolios, and assist with job-search strategies and interview preparation. Annually, more than 500 national and international companies and organizations recruit SCAD students and alumni. In a survey of Spring 2013 SCAD graduates, 93 percent were employed, pursuing further education or both within 10 months of graduation.

FUNDING YOUR EDUCATION

FEDERAL AND STATE AID

Federal aid programs may be available to U.S. or resident alien students and/or their parents. Visit scad.edu/financialaid to find complete and current information about the types and amounts of financial aid available; the application process, policies and procedures; and disbursement information for each program. You should start the process of applying for financial aid as early as possible to ensure priority consideration for all available funding.

HONG KONG AID

The Student Financial Assistance Agency of Hong Kong offers certain types of financial aid for SCAD Hong Kong students. SCAD Hong Kong students are eligible to apply for Hong Kong government grants and low-interest loans. The government currently offers the Financial Assistance Scheme for Postsecondary Students, the Non-means-tested Loan Scheme for Postsecondary Students, and the Student Travel Subsidy Scheme to students pursuing self-financing accredited postsecondary education courses. These programs are administered by the Student Financial Assistance Agency of Hong Kong.

SCHOLARSHIPS FOR ENTERING STUDENTS

SCAD awards scholarships to students based on academic strength as well as achievements in terms of activities, honors, awards, leadership, professional or work experience and creative abilities. Funds are limited and awarded to the earliest strong qualifiers.

ALTERNATIVE FUNDING SOURCES

Personal funds, outside scholarships, federal/state aid programs and institutional scholarships may fall short of a student's anticipated budget for educational expenses. Alternative (credit-based) loans from private lenders are one potential additional source of funding. Parents and students should be aware that these loans may be a more expensive way of borrowing, and they should read all the information available on these loans to select the lender with the most suitable terms. Regarding private education loans, the best source of information is the lender. Programs and qualifying regulations are subject to change without notice. Current information is available at scad.edu/financialaid

Speak with your admission adviser or visit scad.edu/financialaid to learn more.

EXPERIENCE SCAD

Perhaps the best way to experience SCAD is to explore the university first-hand. If you have not already visited one of SCAD's distinctive yet complementary locations, consider scheduling a campus tour or attending a SCAD Day. Prospective undergraduate and graduate students and their families can:

Discover award-winning SCAD facilities

Visit classrooms, studios and technology labs

Learn about career services and student life

Engage with faculty and staff

Mingle with fellow prospective students, current students and SCAD alumni

Learn more about financial aid and scholarships

Visitors can design their own day and choose from a variety of suggested activities. SCAD tours are offered Monday through Saturday in Savannah and Atlanta, and Monday through Friday in Hong Kong. Visit scad.edu/visit to schedule a tour or to register for an upcoming SCAD Day.
